TARVIA CONTINUES TO CLAIM ITS VICTIMS

affects people who live along the tarvalized streets, or whose business calls them frequently there.

This is an affection of the mucous membranes, just as was the so-called hay fever last summer. It irritates the throat and the nostrils as well as reddens the eyes. It causes coughing and the expulsion of phlegm. It places the victim in a ripe condition for contracting pneumonia, larangitis, bronchitis or some other ailment of the lungs and throat, as well as makes them liable to permanent catarrh, provided pneumonia does not bring succor from suffering. If one man, one woman, one innocent babe dies of pneumonia in Tonopah this fall or winter as the result of being rendered easily overtaken by that disease, through first acquiring tarvalia, no punishment could be too severe to visit upon the four people to whom the responsibility may be traced.

It would ameliorate conditions if hoses were applied to the streets and the objectionable material all removed and then the fire department put to work daily in keeping the dust reduced to a minimum, but there seems to be no intent nor desire on the part of the commissioners to minimize the damage they have done nor to improve conditions which are growing menacing and intolerable.

It may be that the county commissioners have no use for the occupants

COLUMBUS KNIGHTS INSTALL OFFICERS

BRETHREN COME FROM GOLDFIELD

ONE OF THE LARGEST FRATERNAL ASSEMBLAGES EVER HELD IN THIS STATE

Tonopah council, No. 1160, Knights of Columbus, entertained over a score of brethren from Goldfield last night on the occasion of the annual installation of officers. The induction was conducted by State Deputy P. J. Reilly of Goldfield council, who administered the obligations in most impressive manner. He was ably assisted by his staff drawn from the southern council and at the conclusion of the ceremonies was warmly congratulated by Grand Knight Thomas F. Dwyer of the local council for the effectiveness of his work.

The gathering at the home of Tonopah council was one of the largest ever assembled in the state, the actual attendance comprising over 150 members of the order, including visitors. Among those who motored over from Goldfield were Father Dermody, Dr. McCarthy, Tim Connolly, Peter J. Somers Jr., Ed Walsh, Frank McNamara, Will Cahalan, George Cannon, P. F. Blake, Pat Dermody, Thomas F. Dunn, John Daly, U. F. Blake and T. Mangan, who acted as escort for M. H. Lynch, grand knight of Goldfield council. After disposing of the ritualistic ceremonies and the exchange of congratulations between members of the two southern councils the members adjourned to the hall upstairs where refreshments were served under the direction of Pat Mooney. After the coffee, cake and sandwiches had been disposed of the members returned to the lower council chamber where the visitors were called on the carpet for the purpose of expressing themselves under the head of "for the good of the order." The greetings occupied until close to midnight, when all joined in singing the national anthem and bidding a God speed to the departing visitors who autoed back to Goldfield in the best of spirits, heartened by the cordially manifested by their Tonopah hosts.

The officers of Tonopah council installed for the ensuing year were: Grand knight, Thomas F. Dwyer; deputy grand knight, D. H. Nolan; chancellor, Steve S. Clark; chaplain, Rev. Jerome Diss; financial secretary, W. M. Roach; recording secretary, J. O'Hara; warden, F. Z. Ethier; treasurer, Christopher Barry; lecturer, Frank P. Kerns; trustees, D. J. Robb, J. J. Murray and Roger P. Stenson; advocate, D. A. Falkenstein; inside guard, W. T. Quirk; outer guard, J. Hannigan.

GROSS MISDEMEANOR

The secret indictment returned by the grand jury last week was against Frank Forvilly and Mrs. Flora Lasaretta of Rochester on the charge of illegal cohabitation. The defendants were brought to Winnemucca Tuesday afternoon and Forvilly gave bonds in the sum of $100. The woman, who was accompanied by her young daughter, was not locked up and will give bonds in a day or two.—Winnemucca Silver State.

of the State Bank building or the Masonic building, or the owners and patrons of the Airdome, as well as all others who reside on Brougher avenue or use that street as a thoroughfare, or it may be that the dark lantern trio wishes to show its disregard for the Bonanza, and in doing so puts many others to discomfort, but at all events, this is the most neglected thoroughfare in the city.

HOW TONOPAH WOMAN PLAYED WIN AND LOSE

THRILLING STORY COMES WITH-OUT PROOFS, BUT WITH FEATURES OF ENTERTAINMENT

Portions of the following story must be taken cum grano salis, while others will require an entire pinch of salt, but there is just enough verity in the tale to make it interesting. The lady in question is well known in Tonopah, where she kept a lodging house for some time and was later engaged as a broker's stenographer. Let it go for what it is worth and the San Francisco Chronicle is to blame if there are any exaggerations or misstatements.

Mrs. Jeanne Carlisle Garringer, head of the mining brokerage firm of J. C. Garringer of Goldfield and Chicago, who is a guest at the St. Francis, is to leave this city for Outman, the new Arizona mining camp, tomorrow night. She has been prompted to tempt Dame Fortune in the new field by one of her dreams or "hunches," as she calls them, and within the next few days a branch office of the Garringer company will be opened in Outman.

Ten years ago Jeanne Garringer was working as a stenographer for a small salary in the Marshall Field store, Chicago. Advised by her physician to seek a higher altitude while she was suffering an attack of pneumonia, the stenographer saw "Goldfield" in a "hunch" before that mining camp had been dignified by a christening. A few days later she landed at the camp, her worldly possessions being 75 cents, a tent, a typewriter and a bad cough, and six months later she had $18,000 and a sound pair of lungs.

With health returned, Mrs. Garringer started prospecting on her own hook, following one of her "hunches," and staked out the Frances Mohawk. She was well on the way to her first fortune, when two of the banks in which she had her funds, failed, leaving her practically penniless.

Then came another "hunch" and without a dime in the bank, she purchased 62,000 shares of Jumbo at less than a dollar and sold out at $1 and $4 a share.

On still another "hunch," Mrs. Garringer bought a mining property near Outman and is going to Arizona to close the deal. She will be accompanied on her trip by Mrs. E. Nelson, Conger of Sacramento.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

One of the most important events in American photo-dramatic history will be Blanche Sweet's initial appearance under Lasky management. Miss Sweet is, without doubt, one of the most noted and best-liked photo-dramatic artists in the world, and her name is almost invariably at the head of the popularity contests. Miss Sweet plays the role of Agatha Warren, a southern girl, in the five-reel production, "The Warrens of Virginia." Many of the most exciting incidents in "The Warrens of Virginia" take place in the camp on the actual field of battle. We see soldiers in ambush and soldiers charging and soldiers in the trenches. And the Confederate and Union armies, as represented on this film, are armies indeed—not mere groups of men, but battalions and regiments, all clad and equipped to the minutest degree in the exact manner of '61. It is an extraordinary photo-dramatic lesson in the sufferings of war. This picture shows, with special pathos, the sufferings of the southern families in the closing days of the war, when starvation stared the tattered army in the face and when even the women and children left at home did not have the bare necessities of life. This Civil War drama, together with Pathe Weekly, will be shown at the Butler tonight only. Phone and we will reserve your box seat. Tomorrow Charlie Chaplin in "Mable's Busy Day," and "Colonel Carter of Cartersville." Sunday, "The Millionaire Baby."—Adv.
